Exploring Bias: A Campus Dialogue
11:00 AM – 1:00 PM

Student Community Center, Meeting Room D

We all have personal biases – inclinations for or against individuals or groups that block impartial judgment. Based in normal cognitive shortcuts, biases can affect our actions, our thinking, and our decision-making, often with significant consequences. Join members of our campus community in dialogue as we explore our personal biases, examine where they arise, and share experiences of disrupting - or trying to disrupt - biases. The dialogue will be facilitated by trained moderators.

Sponsored by Campus Dialogue & Deliberation and Office of Campus Community Relations.

INFORMATION: Visit <https://cdd.ucdavis.edu/events/index.html> or email: tanichol@ucdavis.edu
